

ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATIONS DISCLOSURE

This disclosure contains information about electronic delivery. By consenting to electronic delivery, you agree that Gilder Gagnon Howe & Co. LLC ("GGHC") may provide certain disclosures and notifications in electronic form (email and/or SMS text message) that we may otherwise be required to provide on paper. GGHC does not charge for this service; however, mobile carrier fees may apply. Participation in the service is subject to your carrier's standard messaging rates. By providing your consent to participate in this service, you authorize and acknowledge that GGHC is not responsible for any such charges by your mobile carrier. Your consent covers all of your accounts at GGHC. You are not required to receive notices and disclosures or sign documents electronically. This does not apply to electronic delivery of trade confirmations or monthly statements provided by our clearing firm.

Withdrawing your consent: You have the right, at any time, to withdraw consent without consequence.

Updating your records: It is your responsibility to keep your contact information current so that we can communicate with you electronically. If we send you a communication, but you do not receive it because your contact information on file is incorrect, the communication is blocked by your service provider, or you are otherwise unable to receive electronic communication, we will be deemed to have provided the communication to you. If GGHC is unable to deliver electronic communication, we may provide such communication in paper form in our discretion.

Right to receive a paper copy: You may request that we send you a paper copy of communication at any time.

Types of electronic communications may include but are not limited to:

- This eCommunication disclosure
- Account update forms
- Annual 5130 certification
- Manager quarterly letters
- New account forms and documentation
- Account tax information or notices
- Firm Brochure (Part 2A of Form ADV)
- Form CRS
- Periodic disclosures or notices relating to the maintenance or operation of accounts
- Performance reports
- GGHC Privacy Policy
- GGHC Business Continuity Plan
- Any notice of the addition of new terms and conditions applicable to accounts

To access, view, and retain electronic communications, you must have a computer or mobile device with a reliable internet connection and a current, supported internet browser capable of industry-standard encryption. For email, you must maintain a valid email address and the ability to receive and view electronic messages. To view documents provided in Portable Document Format (PDF), you must have software capable of reading PDF files (such as a modern web browser or Adobe Acrobat Reader). For SMS communications, you must have a mobile device and a service plan capable of receiving text messages. We may update these requirements and will notify you in advance of any changes that significantly impact your ability to access documents, providing you an opportunity to change your method of delivery to paper.

GGHC reserves the right to provide any communications in writing, rather than electronically. We reserve the right, in our sole discretion, to discontinue the use of Electronic Communications or change the terms and conditions.
